DELF Pro are the business versions of DELF diplomas for learners of French as a Foreign Language, awarded by the French Ministry of Education. It is aimed at those seeking to advance or optimise their position within the French-speaking professional environment.

DELF Pro assess business communication skills common to all current work situations. Exam topics have been specifically adapted to the working environment and correspond to the levels prescribed by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) – an internationally recognised benchmark of language ability.

There are no prerequisites and candidates can register for the DELF Pro level of their choice.

At each level, four communication skills are tested: listening, speaking, reading and writing. In order to obtain a DELF B1 or B2 Pro “option professionnelle” diploma, candidates need to achieve a minimum score of 50 out of a possible 100 points.

“Looking for an interesting job in Switzerland? As many companies have affiliates in the French-speaking part of Switzerland, a DELF B1 or B2 Pro Diploma will give you a great advantage.”
DELF Tout public, Junior or DELF Pro?

DELF diplomas certify your level of language ability and are particularly valued in the professional world. In Switzerland, vocational schools, grammar schools, universities and numerous further adult education institutions prepare their students for DELF exams.

In schools that teach French for Business, DELF Pro represents a valuable assessment tool for teachers preparing their students for the French-speaking professional world.

All DELF diplomas correlate to CEFR standards.

Versions Junior and Tout public focus on general and current social topics, while only DELF Pro covers topics specifically related to the workplace.

With a DELF B1 or B2 Pro Diploma, learners demonstrate their ability to communicate in French within a business context. This is the only DELF diploma that states the version “option professionnelle” in addition to the CEFR level on the awarded diploma.
